RECORD CLASS IS GRADUATED

Eighty-one Young Men and Women Participate in Annual Commencement Here

SPLENDID PROGRAM IS GIVEN

Oratory and Music Features of the Exercises Held at Theater Last Night

With an enthusiastic audience which took every available seat in the La Crosse theater, the commencement exercises for the class of 1910 of the high school were held last evening. It was fitting that such a large audience should be on hand, as the class was a record one in point of numbers, eighty-one in all, and one of the best programs ever given at any commencement was enjoyed. Each speaker did exceptionally well, and the music was well handled by the high school orchestra and glee club. Superintendent John P. Bird presided over the proceedings, and together with Prof. L. P. Benzel, assisted President Wm. Luenig of the school board in presenting the diplomas.

Shortly after 8 o'clock, the curtain went up and presented a fine scene, the eighty-one graduates filling the entire stage. The high school orchestra opened the program by rendering the "Commanding Officer," in most approved style. Mary Evans was the first speaker of the evening, and handled her topic, "Just Little Things," in a fine way. She told about how many things were either gained or lost by "little things," how important they were in everyday life, and how they should be considered. It had been so since the beginning, she said, and would continue to be so until the end. After this the high school chorus gave a selection entitled "The Fisher Boy," under the direction of Miss Martha Rollins, the music instructor in the public schools. It was well done, and deserved all the applause received.

Emil Krause, the next speaker, had as his subject, "American Industrial Organization." He discussed both sides of the question at great length, stating that union meant power, and that this was the way for the industries to become strong.

"Good Night, Little Girl, Good Night," was sung by the boys' quintet, which was composed of the following: Victor Jacobson, first tenor; John Henry Gatterdam, second tenor; Herbert Moss, baritone; Harold Davis, first bass; Aloysius Engelhardt, second bass. The boys did extremely well, and responded to an encore.

Indian Folk Lore
"Indian Folk Lore" was Barbara Knothe's subject. She told of the manner in which the Indians procured their songs and legends. Nature helped them great deal, because they were such keen observers of it that they interpreted everything to mean something important. The water, the stars and the heavens all formed good subjects for the red men, as they knew all about them and could express themselves well.

The high school orchestra gave another selection, the Serenade, by Moszkowski, which was well rendered.

Irving Tuteur's topic, "An American Philosopher," proved an exceedingly interesting one, the philosopher being none other than the late Mark Twain. He said that America had lost its best humorist when this man died, and that although he had a very keen wit, he never used it at anybody's expense who was not deserving of criticism. As an example of Mark Twain's writing, he took a passage from "A Tramp Abroad," telling of the foreign guide. The speaker took the parts of the different characters well, and clearly showed that he deserved all the honors won in the oratorical contest held some time

TO PROBE INDIAN BRIBERY CHARGES

Senate Today Passes Resolution Authorizing Investigation of Oklahoma Affairs

WASHINGTON, June 25.—An investigation of the affairs of the Choctaw and Chickasaw Indians that promises to include sensational bribery charges made by Senator Gore was decided upon by the senate today.

Some time ago Senator Gore introduced a resolution providing that the committee on Indian affairs or a subcommittee thereof should investigate the question whether the Choctaws and Chickasaws needed legal services for the sale of their coal and timber lands, to inquire into any contracts that had been made and whether the commission of ten per cent, provided by any such contract, is reasonable; such investigation be made at the next session.

Senator Kean of the committee on contingent expenses made a favorable report on the resolution to the senate today. A request for immediate consideration was granted and the resolution was adopted without discussion.

Senator Gore charged on the senate floor yesterday that an offer of $50,000 had been made to him as a similar offer to a member of the house and that an effort had almost succeeded by which Attorney J. C. Murray and associates would have received from $3,000,000 to $16,000,000 from sales of Indian lands belonging to the Chickasaw and Choctaw Indians. He repeated this charge again today with even more detail than yesterday. Disinterested parties say it is a fight between the Gore and the opposing faction in Oklahoma over disposition of Indian lands.

THIRTY HURT IN AN IOWA WRECK

DES MOINES, Iowa, June 25.—One person is dead and thirty injured, several seriously, as the result of a wreck on the Wabash railroad between Percy and Dunreath, last night. W. G. Brown, of Ottawa, Ill., died at Mercy hospital here early today from injuries.

The St. Louis passenger train No. 3, bound for Des Moines, struck a washout in a sharp turn and rolled down an embankment.

(Copyrighted 1910 by the New York Evening Post Company.)

NEW YORK, June 25.—As far as the stock market was concerned trading continued narrow with a heavy price movement and a tendency toward disinterestedness on the rallies.

Heavy selling at the opening forced prices down a full point below yesterday, with rather sensational losses in some of the railroad issues, then there was a partial recovery on which the market scarcely moved at all when most of the early declines were made up. Such stocks as Steel, Reading, Amalgamated Copper and Union Pacific contributed most of the dealings which were without the slightest show of enthusiasm. The European markets were only a trifle more active than our own, sentiment at London being considerably depressed by yesterday's heavy selling here, and by the more or less distributing rumors growing out of the Wickersham utterances at Chicago.

WISCONSIN MAY BE DARK HORSE

Dopesters Have Easterners Picked to Win, but a Surprise May Be in Store

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 25.—4:38 p. m.—Syracuse now at starting point in varsity four oared race.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 25.—Wonderful weather greeted the college crews on the morning of the big regatta. Clear skies, cool air, a bright sun and smooth water made conditions in the morning hours ideal and the weather sharps on the job declared there would be no change by the time the boats go to the starting line, late this afternoon.

The sixteenth annual regatta of Intercollegiate Rowing association promises to be one of the hardest fought in years with Cornell ruling as the favorite at odds of 7 to 10. The river is jammed with yachts and pleasure craft from New York and the sound and the revenue cutters and torpedo boats sent here to patrol the course spent a busy morning getting the boats assigned to the positions they must occupy late today. Every train brought in its throng of yelling, enthusiastic college men and their adherents. Rivermen said today's crowd was the largest in a number of years.

In the varsity eight there seems little doubt that Cornell will send the prow of her boat across the finish line away ahead of her rivals, though Columbia and Pennsylvania are counted upon to make her row hard. Columbia men are taking chances on their crew which made such a splendid showing last year, when it finished second after a sensational brush with Cornell.

Pennsylvania is figured to finish third with Syracuse fourth.

Wisconsin is therefore picked by the sharps to finish last, but there are those who believe the Badgers will upset a lot of dopesters. There was much speculation among the river front today that the Wisconsin varsity four would prove the surprise of the race, though on what this was based is hard to ascertain.

There will be three races in the regatta. They are the varsity four for the Kennedy challenge cup over a mile course; the freshmen eight oar for the Stewart cup over two miles, and the varsity eight oar, for the varsity challenge cup, over four miles.

The first race will be rowed at 4:30, the freshmen eight at 5:30 the varsity eight at 6:30 o'clock. This was the schedule prepared today but if the water should be choppy this afternoon these times may be changed, the races all being rowed later.

Because of the instructions given by Mayor Sague to the police to suppress all evidences of gambling, what wagers were made on the result were made in private. As the day advanced the river became choppy but the experts declared that this was to be expected and that with late afternoon the water would probably be smooth.

All of the coaches pronounced their crews on edge and said there would be no excuse for defeat, that the best eight was sure to win.

Columbia was praying for rough water.

The boys from Morningside Heights are good bad-weather performers and if the course is choppy they have a grand chance to win.

BALLINGER BOARD ADJOURNS TODAY

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 25.—The congressional committee which has been investigating the charges against Secretary of the Interior Ballinger, adjourned today until Sept. 5, when a meeting is to be held at Minneapolis, Minn., and a report formulated. The majority of the committee, being stalwart, will probably "whitewash" Ballinger.

TAFT SIGNS TWO PORK BAR'L BILLS

Executive's Signature Is Attached to Rivers and Harbors and Public Building Measures

CRITICIZES THE RIVER BILL

Objects to Piece-meal System, but Prefers it to Letting Work Cease Entirely

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 25.—Declaring his emphatic disapproval of the present haphazard scheme of distributing river and harbor improvements and insisting that were it not for the fact that certain projects should be carried out, he would have vetoed the river and harbor measure, President Taft today signed the big "pork barrel" bill and sent a special message on it to congress.

The executive says that the bill was a poorly constructed measure and that at one time he had reached the conclusion that he would veto it and secure a better enactment. The bill carries $52,000,000 in appropriation. Statesmen at the capital have been more than usually apprehensive during the last ten days over the president's failure to give it executive approval. He waited the full ten days allowed by law and after which a measure becomes effective without signature, before affixing his approval to it. The president finds particular fault with the piece meal scheme of appropriation.

Signs Buildings Bill
President Taft this afternoon signed the public buildings bill which carries about $23,000,000 and is the companion "pork barrel" to the rivers and harbors bill.

Millions for Food
Urging immediate action on a resolution to appropriate $1,000,000 to alleviate flood conditions along the Colorado river, President Taft this afternoon sent a special message to congress. The million was appropriated in the senate without debate.

Total Appropriation Less
The last big appropriation measure, the general deficiency bill, was put through the house this afternoon by an acceptance of the conference report. Chairman Tawney of the appropriation committee, said the total of the appropriations for running the government was less this year than for 1910. The decrease does not include the river and harbor and public buildings bills, which it is said raise the government expenditures over last year by $37,000,000.

Publicity "Afterward"
After an hour of debate the house today agreed to the senate substitute on the campaign publicity bill. It provides for the filing of an itemized account of campaign expenditures within 30 days after election, instead of before as originally ordered in the house bill. The democrats and insurgents were greatly divided and accepted the senate bill as better than nothing or keeping congress in session until the senate should come around to the house bill.

The house this afternoon accepted the conference report on the joint resolution appointing a commission to investigate employers' liability and workmen's compensation.

The house withdrew today its demand that all the pension agencies except the one in Washington be abolished and they are provided for in the pension appropriation bill as usual.

WARD REJOINS OUTCASTS.

First Baseman Ed Ward, who was left at home when the Outcasts left for Red Wing Friday morning, hoped aboard No. 55 this morning to rejoin the team this afternoon. Ed took along two new war clubs of his own pattern and expects to get into the hitting good and strong. His stomach trouble has improved and he is feeling fit according to his own dope.

EXCITING BANDIT RAID IN THE EAST

Four Dead when Citizens' Posse Pursues Robbers, After Looting of Lynn Safe

LYNN, Mass., June 25.—Following a daring raid by armed bandits today, four persons are dead and one badly wounded, while the city was thrown into confusion which brought all business to a standstill for several hours. Of the four dead two were members of a gang of holdup men who are believed to have operated throughout New England during the last few months; one was the junior member of a big shoe firm, and another was a policeman. The holdup, murder, pursuit and final extermination and capture of the bandit gang formed a chapter of as exciting incidents as has ever been known in this section of the country.

The dead are:
Thomas Landrigan, member of the firm of Welsh & Landrigan, shoe manufacturers; shot and killed when he resisted the attempt to rob him. Policeman James A. Carroll, shot and so badly wounded when he went to Landrigan's aid that he died shortly afterward. Abbe Apon, 24, East 22nd street, New York city, shot dead by a policeman when he refused to surrender after he and his companions had been surrounded in the woods a few miles from the scene of the holdup; unidentified robber, killed himself when surrounded by the police. The third member of the gang who refused with curses to give his name, but who is believed to be a noted thief, is in the police station, wounded in both wrists. He was captured after a hot fight with the police.

When the Central National bank opened for business Landrigan was standing in line and drew $6,000 for the weekly payroll of his firm. He placed it in a satchel and with Policeman Carroll, detailed to act as guard, started for his factory. As they went down the street, three men dropped in behind and when the intersection of Willow and Oxford streets was reached the men sprang forward.

One struck Carroll with a black-jack, felling him, and the others grabbed the satchel. Landrigan resisted, one of the robbers drew a revolver and fired. Landrigan dropped, instantly killed, with three bullets in his body. Carroll started to flee, but was shot through the chest and as he fell the trio picked up the satchel and fled.

Attracted by the shooting many policemen and citizens started after the thieves, who fired at their pursuers and ran toward a ridge of land on the outskirts, known as High Rock. Up this they climbed, but the run had winded them, and they finally threw away the bag of money, apparently hoping that their abandonment of their booty would check pursuit. The trio found a horse belonging to Miss Bessie Baker, standing alongside the curb. One of them mounted the animal and as Miss Baker ran to stop the thief, two of the yeggs fired point blank at her. She dodged behind a fence and the robbers, one mounted and the others holding by the horse's stirrups, raced down the street.

Just as they passed the Lynn hospital an automobile with three citizens and a policeman in it turned the corner and all four opened fire. The yegg who rode the horse fell dead. The others doubling on their tracks, struck across through a clump of trees in an effort to avoid the bullets which now began to fall on all sides. With every policeman in the city and a mob of nearly 500 citizens in close pursuit, the two remaining robbers took refuge in a swamp and the pursuers at once began to surround it. Within a few minutes a single shot was heard from the swamp and then the police closed in. They found one yegg dead, face down, where he had killed himself, and the other shot through the hands, standing idly by with an empty pistol. All his cartridges were gone.

The remaining yegg was at once hurried to police headquarters here, but he absolutely refused to give

FIVE INDICTED IN ILLINOIS SCANDAL

Bribery, Conspiracy and Perjury Are the Main Charges Against Them All

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 25.—The Sangamon county grand jury at noon today returned indictments against the following: Lee O'Neill Browne, conspiracy to bribe, three counts; R. W. Wilson, conspiracy to bribe, three counts; Louis D. Hirschheimer of Pittsfield, conspiracy to bribe, three counts; Frank A. Traut, conspiracy to bribe, three counts; A. B. Johnson of this city, perjury and twelve counts for conspiracy to bribe. The indictments were received by Judge Shirley and warrants issued for all the men.

Browne and Wilson are indicted on the testimony of Representative H. J. C. Beckemeyer that he was paid $900 in St. Louis by Wilson, the agreement having been made with Browne here in Springfield.

Wilson is indicted for bribery in handing the money to Beckemeyer on agreement made in this city. Hirschheimer and Traut are indicted on the fish bill, Traut for collecting the money, $2,500, with which to kill the bill in the house, and Hirschheimer for seeing that it reached the proper parties. A. B. Johnson testified to the grand jury that he had not talked with or attempted to influence any member of the legislature on the state house furniture deal. Holtshaw testified that Johnson had talked to him. On this is based the charge of perjury. The 12 counts for bribery are in relation to the use of money to secure for his firm the Ford-Johnson company of Chicago, the contract to refurbish the house and senate halls at a bid the highest submitted to the commission.

ALIENISTS TO DECIDE HIS EXTRADITION

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Jun 25.—The means to be employed to prevent Porter Charlton being extradited to Italy, to stand trial for the murder of his wife, Mrs. Mary Scott Charlton, will be determined within the next few days. Everything hinges on the report to Lawyer William D. Edwards, who has commissioned alienists Dr. Charles Dana, Dr. Arlitz and Dr. Fisher to make a thorough examination of Charlton. If they unite in declaring that he is insane then every effort will be made to have him sent to an asylum for treatment. If, on the other hand, they decide that he is not insane but that he understands what he is doing there will be no opposition to his being taken back to Italy.

SCHWARTZ RESIGNS FEDERAL OFFICE

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 25.—H. H. Schwartz chief of the field division of the general land office, today resigned to practice law in Portland, Ore. Schwartz was a strong supporter of Secretary Ballinger and the department issued a statement praising his work.

Ballinger at once announced the appointment of James M. Sheridan, now special agent of the land office at Denver, as Schwartz's successor. Sheridan is the young lawyer that had charge of the government suit against the Cunningham claimants.

MAYOR SEIDEL IS SUED BY P. F. DICK

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 25.—The socialist mayor, Emil Seidel, sued for $5000 because during the spring election he charged that Alderman Paul F. Dick, candidate for re-election, secured his election by promising jobs to ignorant foreigners if he was elected. The complaint has been filed and Mayor Seidel responded immediately with an answer admitting that he made the charge on substance, and that he believes it is true.

BIRD TELLS OF SCHOOL ADVANCE

Retiring Superintendent Answers Critics at Graduation Last Evening

SHOW STEADY IMPROVEMENT

Urges People to Refrain from Criticisms of His Successor Till He's Known

The first reply to criticism which he intimated has been made of his administration as Superintendent of the La Crosse public schools was made by City Superintendent John P. Bird last night at the high school commencement exercises just prior to the presentation of diplomas.

The brief address of the superintendent was unexpected inasmuch as it did not appear on the printed programs. It was not in the nature of a defense against criticism of his work but rather in the form of a few facts which he said might furnish food for thought for the many who had seen fit to criticize the school system since 1897.

He said that in 1897, when he was chosen superintendent of schools, the La Crosse high school had an enrollment of 5,766, one of the largest in its history. There has been a steady decrease in the enrollment, he declared, until this year it will be about 4,450. This is an approximate figure the totals not having been completed. The decrease, he said, was due to various social and industrial conditions in La Crosse. Despite this decrease in the enrollment, he declared, the list of graduates had been constantly increasing until the class of 1910 numbered eighty-one, the largest in the history of the high school.

"These figures and what they are due to may be of interest to many critics," said Superintendent Bird, "but for their benefit I will say that they are due to nothing more than the splendid set of men and women we have in our La Crosse schools. They are without a peer as educators."

SOCIAL CENTER PUTS US ON MAP

Washington School Organization Attracts Attention All Over the Country

Since the organization of the Social Center society at the Washington school, La Crosse is being recognized as one of the cities of the country to which others should look to advice along these lines. "The Common Ground," a monthly periodical, published by the League of Civic Clubs of Rochester, N. Y., contains the following article with reference to the social center work that has been started in this city:

"La Crosse is one of the most beautiful and hospitable towns in all the splendid state of Wisconsin. And its citizens are enterprising. It plans to have Social Center Development in full swing next fall. With this in view in April was organized a Men's Civic Club. Seventy-five men enrolled on the first meeting night and plans were made for the extension of the use of the public school property to serve, not any section, but all of the people of La Crosse. In speaking of the Social Center, the La Crosse Tribune shows its grasp of the idea in these words: 'It requires no deep thought to arrive at all appreciation of the fact that in every community, as in the nation, the great fundamental interests of life are common to all. If in our municipalities we strive at these great interests as individuals, looking at them from divergent viewpoints and the impulse of our energies will not be so powerful as it will be if we join our energies on common ground. If we reach a common ground in each community there will be overlapping results of our united labors and the final expression will be national progress in morals, in health, in politics and in all the things which are the fruition of the world's work. A common need is the impulse, the common good is the goal. So let us dismiss the idea that the Social Center is for any class, and accept it as the instrument for good of all classes.'"

JOHN COBURN WILL IS FILED TODAY

A petition for probating the will of the late John Coburn was filed in probate court today. Deceased leaves an estate valued at $25,000, of which $18,000 is real estate and $7,000 personal property. The estate is divided between Frank P. Coburn and Horace C. Coburn, sons of deceased.

MINNESOTA AND THE NORTHWEST

SALARIES FIXED BY COMMISSION

MANKATO, Minn., June 25.—The commission that is conducting the affairs of the city has passed one of the tests that it had to undergo and has made good. This was the matter of the fixing of salaries. With no limit placed on the salaries that it could pay, the opponents of the commission form of government claimed that the salaries would be unduly raised by the commission. This has proved not to be the case, although all of the officials wanted material raises.

The salaries fixed this week are very little larger than they were before. One or two offices were abolished, and the salaries of some left where they were, while salaries fixed by the old charter eighteen years ago, and which were plainly too small under present conditions, were made reasonable.

PROGRESSIVES OPEN CAMPAIGN

FARGO, N. D., June 25.—Representative Charles A. Lindbergh opened his speechmaking tour of North Dakota in behalf of the progressive candidates, Marshall and Gronna, at Fargo.

Mr. Lindbergh said the fight being waged by the insurgent faction of the republican party was not against the party, but against the bosses. He said the government was in the hands of the few, who were, however, being slowly deprived of their opportunities to plunder by the offensive tactics being adopted by the insurgents.

He said the privileged rulers of the government reward the standard congressmen and other officials who are defeated by giving them the cream of the appointive offices within the power of the government to give. He referred in this connection to Judge Jenkins of Wisconsin, who, upon being defeated by La Follette men, was appointed to be judge of Porto Rico.

WISCONSIN NEWS

SUES MAYOR SEIDEL; CHARGE IS SLANDER

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 25.—The suit which Ald. Paul F. Dick of the Second ward threatened to bring against Mayor Seidel as a result of a speech made by the latter during the recent campaign has been filed with the clerk of the circuit court.

On March 28 the mayor in a public address was reported as saying: "Down in the Second ward we have certain evidence that Paul E. Dick has been promising pobs to ignorant foreigners if he should be elected. I can prove it." The charge is branded as false by the alderman, who asks damages of $5,000.

The mayor's answer, filed with the complaint, admits that the charge was made substantially as stated in the complaint, but states that it is true.

WANTS CONTEST FOR EACH OFFICE

MILWAUKEE, June 25.—The Wisconsin democracy if it nominates candidates at all at the coming state convention should select two for each office, in the belief of Joseph E. Davies of Madison, chairman of the state central committee. He said: "Personally I think it would be a mistake and a grievous one to nominate single candidates. If the democracy nominates candidates at all it should nominate two candidates for each office."

"It will require a contest, in my judgment, to assure the casting of the 20 per cent vote necessary to place our ticket on the official ballot."

for the impression you make wherever you go depends entirely on your appearance and personal cleanliness. All dandruff remedies are called sure, but there are exceptional reasons why Indian Dandruff Remedy is unfailing. First, it comes directly from Nature, containing Essence of Herbs, which starts the natural flow of oils in the hair and stimulates the hair follicles to life and health. This is most important, it contains only one-half of one per cent of alcohol, while other remedies are full of alcohol, which stunts the growth and removes the natural oil of the hair. You can depend absolutely on Indian Dandruff Remedy for the most perfect cleaning, most refreshing and most healing shampoo you can buy, because it is made of pure Olive Oil, purified, with which strong alkali is used. Naturally, this is extremely injurious to the hair. Indian Shampoo is the purest and most healing shampoo you can buy, because it is made of pure Olive Oil, purified, with which strong alkali is used. This is extremely injurious to the hair. Indian Shampoo is the purest and most healing shampoo you can buy, because it is made of pure Olive Oil, purified, with which strong alkali is used.

THE CHAUTAUQUA A BUILDER

Perhaps, in a word, the chief function of the Chautauqua is to crystallize important modern thought. We have before us constantly an immense category of subjects having to do with the advancement of civilization. They affect every phase of life, the mental and the physical, the moral and the athletic, the scientific and the religious. They come to us from numerous angles and with various implications; they come to us through many channels with varying grades of accuracy. As we get them from poems, from magazines, newspapers and other publications, from the dictum of sect and faction and school, they are dressed and presented in ways that are often contradictory and confusing. They range from the erudite to the pedantic. Taken as a whole they bring a portion of truth in a mess of error and misunderstanding.

We say that the Chautauqua picks up these subjects and crystallizes them. Each idea is there presented in its most complete form, worked out by the best minds of the most competent authority. The trash is eliminated, confusion is way to lucidity, and from the mass of rubbish in which was buried a new thought of enlightenment is taken the worthy gem that is to contribute added wealth to the storehouse of man's culture and advancement. The gem is placed in a new thing that emphasizes its worth and glorifies its beauty. We get the Chautauqua in a few days a meat of a year's progress, each meal of truth in its own snugly fitting nutshell.

The city that is given the advantage of a Chautauqua is both fortunate and honored. Its good fortune is invariably made manifest during the ensuing year, for in civility, social culture and progress of every sort will be seen the living fruit spring from the seed sown in those pleasant days of civilization.

The Tribune expects that the La

Crosse Chautauqua, which begins next Tuesday at the new High school athletic grounds, will attract an attendance the immensity of which will emphasize the appreciation of its worth entertained by La Crosse people. We have benefited in material ways by the Chautauquas of the past. We have heard the last and best words in many lines and we have felt the forward impulse exerted. This year the Chautauqua promises even greater benefits, more delightful entertainment, more ample scope than those which preceded it, and our appreciative response should be a correspondingly greater patronage.

THE "FIGHTING EDGE"

Notwithstanding it takes a slap at our old friend, Theodore Roosevelt who, by the way, is reported to have lately returned from abroad, we confess to a profound interest in the following from an eastern exchange:

"Before Senator Depew spoke, very respectable authority had declared that the war with Spain was needless, for we might have obtained by negotiation all that we got by fighting. That the Spanish government, with gentle handling, would have arranged for a peaceful evacuation of Cuba and Porto Rico seems probable. But an excited public opinion swept President McKinley into war whereby we gained not only the surrender of Cuba and Porto Rico, but that delectable possession, the Philippine Islands, to say nothing of many tombstones in the national cemetery at Arlington and elsewhere.

"This has been declared before, but the Senator's statement comes opportunely, because we have been hearing again about the necessity of preserving the sterner virtues and the 'fighting edge.' It may be true that a nation which is unwilling to fight under any circumstances is lost; but against that set the staggering losses, in the last fifteen hundred years, that have arisen through national willingness to fight. If the United States, traditionally peaceful, rushed into a needless war as recently as 1898 it does not seem that the western world has reached a point where anybody need worry about a decay of national belligerency. The danger is still on the other side. What we really need to cultivate and be instructed about is the milder virtues and national willingness to reason."

The "fighting edge" stood this nation, when it was "in the making," in good stead. Indeed, and to its keenness we owe that great institution, the republican form of government. In the civil war the "fighting edge" may have been overwhetted in the south, but the interests of liberty would have suffered had not the north drawn and wielded its "fighting edge." We are prepared to accept without hesitation the assertion that, if not actually a mistake, the "fighting edge" was too hastily unsheathed in the case of the Spanish war, an attempt to avert which would not have reflected upon the national honor and might have attained the humane end finally achieved, and we subscribe without reserve to the theory that we have reached that stage of civilization that should afford a means of settling international disputes quite as efficacious as war and less costly and tragic. But that is a condition that can only come by agreement among the powers, and the folly of such a pact leaving out a single nation strong enough in modern armament to whip a self-disarmed world—and it would not take the biggest of them—is apparent. So long as war is possible, we must be prepared to protect the citizen whose allegiance is based upon the theory that government is a source of protection for individual rights within the domain and against hostile invasion from without. Doubtless we were in error in the Spanish war, and it is possible that our attitude in the Mexican war was not above criticism, but had we lacked the "fighting edge" in '76 and 1812 and '65, the fate of two great continents aggregating seventy-five millions of people would no doubt have been less happy, and there might not to this day have been instituted that "government of the people, by the people and for the people" established by Washington and preserved by Lincoln.

Judging from his utterances in Chicago relating to control of railroad bonds, insurgency is sprouting in the breast of Attorney General Wickham. However, we have little confidence in the soldier driven to war, and incidentally we note that this budding anarchism does not affect the sugar trust.

Senator Dolliver is quoted as having congratulated himself that "the president has taken from his neck the millstone of patronage." We recall that Senator La Follette has not worn that collar during the Taft administration.

The Tafts will soon go into summer quarters. Perhaps the term "Beat a retreat" would not be inappropriate.

DO IT NOW

La Crosse People Should Not Wait Until It Is Too Late

The appalling death-rate from kidney disease is due in most cases to the fact that the little kidney troubles are usually neglected until they become serious. The slight symptoms give place to chronic disorders and the sufferer goes gradually into the grasp of diabetes, dropsy, Bright's disease, gravel or some other serious form of kidney complaint.

If you suffer from backache, headache, dizzy spells; if the kidney secretions are irregular of passage and unritual in appearance, do not delay. Help the kidneys at once.

Doan's Kidney Pills are especially for kidney disorders—they cure where others fail. Over one hundred thousand people have recommended them. Here's a case at home:

William S. King, 1701 Market St., La Crosse, Wis., says: "My kidneys were badly disordered and any slight cold I caught settled in these organs, causing me to suffer from backache. The passages of the kidney secretions were also irregular and I was caused no end of annoyance by this weakness. Being advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a box at Erhart & Son's Drug Store and began their use. They entirely relieved me and will always have my endorsement."

SPOTLIGHTS

NEW MAJESTIC BILL

The Majestic theater next week, beginning with the Monday afternoon performance which opens at 3 o'clock offers one of the best aerial gymnastic acts that has ever appeared in Europe and America. It is the celebrated Riva Larsen troupe consisting of two men and two women. They are head liners on the bill and one of the biggest and most sensational acts of its kind that has ever been brought to this city. They do their work on four hanging ropes, having originated the idea themselves and copyrighted it. They show all sorts of muscular feats demonstrating unusual endurance and skill. The act closes with a finale that is sensational. It consists of three women holding the other three people, weighing 545 pounds, on one arm while hanging downward. The act should be a feature well worth seeing.

Deas, Reed and Deas, known as the best colored actors in vaudeville will present their comedy skit, "The Shoplifters." The act is heralded as an audience winner. Their songs will make you beat time on the floor and their talking and dancing will cause you to hold your sides in laughter. One of the actors is a comedian one of the real colored clowns that keeps the audience in a continual uproar. The troupe consists of a woman and two men.

The Swickards, actors of ability will present their musical comedy entitled, "The Shoplifters." The act comes well recommended and should be one of the favorites next week. The bill will close with Ed Harley, vaudeville's eccentric entertainer. Harley is well known in the show business having lately been a member of Haverly's Mastodon Minstrel show.

The usual moving pictures and illustrated song will be offered. Remember the Majestic is the coolest place in the city. Lately $400 worth of new fans, one of them the largest exhaust fan in the city, have been installed. Go and seek refuge from the hot weather at the coolest spot in the city.

RATTLING GOOD SHOW

Damon's Colored Minstrel Comedy company will appear at the La Crosse theater tomorrow afternoon and evening and will present the same high class program that has won for them such flattering praise from managers, newspapers and the general public during the past several seasons. The company is a large and meritorious one, and includes Prof. A. M. Damon, the worlds greatest colored violinist, Mme. Damon, prima donna, besides a cast thoroughly proficient in every way. The company is well supported with good singers, dancers and comedians, and the public can depend upon a pleasing performance on the day of this engagement. One noticeable feature of the organization is the bevy of bright, smiling, sweet singing, artistic dancing octoroon girls from the land of Dixie, graduate every one from schools of high moral standing, and from homes of refinement and loving family surroundings. In fact,

How Pa Fixed the Mower
We got our old lawn mower out, but it would hardly run a bit. "We'll have to get it fixed," says ma. But pa says, "I can tinker it; it's wasteful, this extravagance. So get some oil, a wrench, a file; I'll fix it up the same as new. In only just a little while."

"Be keeferful, now," says ma, but pa jest looked at her and kinder sniffed.

"I know what I'm about," says he. "At fixin' things I got a gift. You just take Willie off to church. And when you're home again you'll see."

That I can do things mighty well. When no one's by to pester me."

I begged to stay a helpin' pa. Because I like to hear 'im cuss. But had to go to Sunday school. And couldn't wait to see the muss. I wouldn't stay there, though, but sneaked.

Away and run for home like Ned. I didn't dare go in, but peeked. At pa from round behind the shed.

And there was pa—his Sunday pants. Looked like he'd taken them to wipe.

An engine with; he'd tore his shirt. And bit the stem from off his pipe. He kicked the thing an hurt his corn. Then run and got the ax, and—wow!

When he got through he grinned and yelled.

"Doggone you, guess I've fixed you now!"

"Follow the Leader"

A nervous commuter on his dark, lonely way home from the railroad station heard footsteps behind him. He had an uncomfortable feeling that he was being followed. He increased his speed. The footsteps quickened accordingly. The commuter darted down a lane. The footsteps still pursued him. In desperation he vaulted over a fence and, rushing into a churchyard, threw himself panting on one of the graves.

"If he follows me here," he thought fearfully, "there can be no doubt as to his intentions."

The man was following. He could hear him scrambling over the fence. Visions of highwaymen, maniacs, garroters and the like flashed through his brain. Quivering with fear, a nervous one arose and faced his pursuer.

"What do you want?" he demanded. "Wh-why are you following me?"

"Say," asked the stranger, mopping his brow, "do you always go home like this? I'm going up to Mr. Brown's and the man at the station told me to follow you, as you lived next door. Excuse my asking you, but is there much more to do before we get there?"—Ladies Home Journal.

Again the Cost of Living

A young lady who taught a class of small boys in the Sunday school desired to impress on them the meaning of returning thanks before a meal. Turning to one of the class, whose father was a deacon in the church, she asked him.

"William, what is the first thing your father says when he sits down to the table?"

"He says: 'Go slow with the butter, kids; it's 40 cents a pound,'" replied the youngster.—Everybody's Magazine.

Buller Lost No Time

"Or a minute," added the American.—Everybody's Magazine.

Fault of the People

Ex-Governor Folk of Missouri, at the Missouri society's dinner in the Waldorf-Astoria, said of corruption: "The existence of corruption is the fault of the people. The populace, instead of making a real effort and ridding itself of corruption once for all, wriggles uneasily and does nothing."

"In fact, the populace adopts the dangerous laissez-faire policy of the boy with the stomach ache."

"You mustn't go swimming today," this boy's father said. "You've got stomach ache, you know."

"Oh, that's all right father," said the boy. "I'll swim on my back."—Washington Star.

"Perhaps he was a scoundrel. He is dead!" softly.

"God's will be done!" But Hermann's face turned lighter.

"As a boy he loved you."

"And did I not love him?" said Hermann fiercely. "Did I not worship that boy, who was to me more like a son than a brother? Had not all the brothers and sisters died but he? But you—who are you to recall these things?"

"I knew your brother; I knew him well. He was not a scoundrel; only weak. He went to America and became successful in business. He fought with the North in the war. He was not a coward; he did his fighting bravely and honorably."

"Oh, no; Hans could never have been a coward; even his villainy required courage. But go on."

"He died facing the enemy, and his last words were of you. He begged your forgiveness; he implored that you forget that black moment. He was young, he said; and they offered him a thousand crowns. In a moment of despair he fell."

"Despair? Did he confess to you the crime he committed?"

"Yes."

"Did he tell you to whom he sold his honor?"

"That he never knew. A Gypsy from the hills came to him, so he said."

"From Jugendheim?"

"I say that he knew nothing. He believed that the Gypsy wanted her highness to hold for ransom. Hans spoke of a girl called Tekla."

"Tekla? Ah, yes, Hans was in love with that doll-face."

"Doll-face or not, Hans evidently loved her. She fitted him, and he did not care then what happened. His one desire was to leave Dreiberg. And this Gypsy brought the means and the opportunity."

"Not Jugendheim?"

"Who knows? Hans followed the band of Gipsies into the mountains. The real horror of his act did not come home to him until then. Ah, the remorse! But it was too late. They dressed the little one in rags. But when I ran away from them I took her little shoes and cloak and locket."

Hermann was on his feet! Grumbach relighted his cigar which had gone out. The smoke waivered about his face and slowly ascended. His eyes were as bright and glowing as coals. He waited. He had made the slip without premeditation; but what was done was done. So he waited.

Hermann dropped his hands on the table and leaned forward.

"Is it you, Hans, and I did not know you?"

"It is I, brother."

"My God!" Hermann sank down weakly. The ceiling spun and the gaslight separated itself into a hundred flames. "You said he was dead!"

"So I am, to the world, to you, and to all who knew me," quietly.

"Why have you returned?"

Hans shrugged. "I don't know. Perhaps I am a fool; perhaps I am willing to pay the penalty of my crime. At least that was uppermost in my mind till I learned that her highness had been found."

brain in the past ten minutes that he was dazed. His brother Hans alive and here, and rich?"

"But riches are not everything."

"Sometimes they are little enough," Hans agreed.

"Why did you do it?" Hermann's voice was full of agony.

"Have I not told you, Hermann? There is nothing more to be added."

Then, with rising passion: "Nothing more, now that my heart is blistered and scarred with regret and remorse. God knows that I have repented and repented. I went to war because I wanted to be killed. They shot me here, and here, and here, and this saber-cut would have split the skull of any other man. But it was willed that I should come back here."

"My poor brother! You must fly from here at once!"

"From what?" tranquilly.

"The chancellor is suspicious."

"I know that. But since you, my brother, failed to identify me, certainly his excellency will not. I shall make no slip as in your case. And you will not betray me when I tell you that I have returned principally to find out whence came those thousand crowns."

"Ah! Find that out, Hans; yes, yes!" Hermann began to look more like himself. "But what was your part?"

"Mine? I was to tell where her highness and her nurse were to be at a certain hour of the day. Nothing more was necessary. My running away was the expression of my guilt; otherwise they would never have connected me with the abduction."

"Have you any suspicions?"

"None. And remember, you must not know me, Hermann, no matter where we meet. I am sleepy." Hans rose.

And this, thought Hermann, his bewilderment gaining life once more, and this calm, untruffled man, whose hair was whiter than his own, a veteran of the bloodiest civil war in history, this prosperous mechanic, was his little brother Hans!

"Hans, have you no other greeting?" Hermann asked, spreading out his arms.

The wanderer's face beamed; and the brothers embraced.

"You forgive me, then, Hermann?"

"Must I not, little Hans. You are all that is left me of the blood. True, I swore that if ever I saw you again I should curse you."

The two stood back from each other, but with arms still entwined. "Perhaps, Hans, I did not watch you closely enough in those days."

"And what has become of the principal cause?"

"The cause?"

"Tekla."

"Bah! She is fat and homely and the mother of seven squalling children."

"What a world! To think that Tekla should be at the bottom of all this tangle! What irony! I ruin my life, I break the heart of the grand duke, I nearly cause war between two friendly states—why? Tekla, now fat and homely and the mother of seven, would not marry me. The devil rides strange horses."

"Good night, Hans."

"Good night, Hermann, and God bless you for your forgiveness. Always come at night if you wish to see me, but do not come often; they might remark it."

A rap on the door startled them. Hans, a finger of warning on his lip, opened the door. Carmichael stood outside.

"Ah, Captain! Hans took Carmichael by the hand and drew him into the room.

Carmichael, observing Hermann, was rather confused as to what to do.

It's Raining in London

The American opinion of coffee as understood in the English home is not high, and how the coffee of the English lodging houses is esteemed may be understood from the following traveler's tale: It was the first morning in London "apartments," and his landlady came up with the breakfast. As she set down his coffee cup she opened a slight conversation: "It looks like rain," she said. "It does," agreed the American, "but the odor has a faint suggestion of coffee."—Everybody's Magazine.

COTTON FUTURE GAMBLING STOPS

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 25.—The Scott anti-option cotton bill was passed by the house by a vote of 160 to 41. Cheers came from the southern members when the vote was announced.

This bill as passed prohibits gambling in cotton futures by requiring cotton sellers to file affidavits in each deal attesting their intent and ability to actually deliver the cotton. It imposes a fine and imprisonment for gambling in cotton futures both for the dealers and the telegraph companies transmitting the messages. United States mails are alleged denied to any papers aiding gambling in cotton.

ATTELL DEFEATS MORAN BY DECISION

LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 25.—

The newspapers today give Abe Attell the decision over Owen Moran, in their ten round battle fought here last night, and simultaneously the spectators are agreed that Governor Gillette was right in regarding the contest as a sparring match and not a prize fight. Both men were on their feet and strong at the end, and neither showed a single mark of the conflict.

Both boxed cleverly and both showed considerable bad feeling. At the end of the bout, when Moran offered to shake hands, Attell declined and walked to his dressing room.

At luncheon at Buckingham palace one of the young sons of the Prince of Wales excitedly said to the King, "Oh! grandpa," when the King interposed with some severity, "Little boys should be seen and not heard. Go on with your luncheon and don't talk."

The little prince, with a world of meaning, said: "Too late, grandpa; it is too late."

The King said: "Nonsense! If it was worth saying five minutes ago it is worth saying now."

"No, grandpa," said the little prince. "There was a big green worm in your salad and you've eaten him."—Ladies' Home Journal.

MIDNIGHT SCREAM CAUSES ALARM

Hysterical Yelling by Woman in Cab on Rose Street Arouses Neighborhood; Alleged Robbery.

The hysterical screams of a woman in the stillness of midnight, caused much excitement in the eight hundred block on Rose street last night. A woman had jumped out of a cab and in a hysterical manner shrieked that she had been robbed.

"He got the money and blew," said the woman whose name could not be learned this morning. Her home is in Minneapolis. It developed later that the two had been coming down Rose street from the north end of the city in a hack and that between St. James and St. Cloud street, the man had taken a pocketbook with $30 in it, and leaped from the cab. He was last seen running through the yard at the Marbeau residence. The hack driver made off as rapidly as possible while the crowd was gathering. Men and women who had heard the continual screaming of the distracted woman, ran into the street, in scant attire, thinking that someone had been the victim of foul play. The woman refused to give any particulars of the affair.

The police state that the woman alleges that the man is her husband and that he had taken money which belonged to himself and that the cause of the woman's hysterics was the fear that the man would run away and desert her.

Newbro's Herpicide

Others Imitate but None Equal

Since the world was new there have been imitators. Great men and remarkable achievements are all imitated to a greater or less extent. An attempt at imitation is always a compliment—a tribute to the greatness of the man or the worthiness of the thing imitated.

Herpicide is a Scientific Achievement

The Original Remedy to Kill the Dandruff Germ and Up To Date the Only One That Does It

That's Bully!

Others have tried to imitate it, but without success. It stands alone, the peer of all hair preparations. Used as directed, Herpicide removes the dead scarf skin, which is so unsightly and annoying, checks further accumulation by killing the Dandruff Germ, stops falling hair and brings both scalp and hair back to normal health. Unless completely atrophied, the follicles take on new life, manifested by a strong, vigorous growth of hair.

Completely Bald for Eight Years

I was almost completely bald for the last eight years and tried every remedy advertised without benefit. Herpicide immediately removed the itching and feverish sensation. I now have a fine silky growth of hair started which is growing every day. There was no sign of hair before.

PASTORS' ANNUAL OUTING MONDAY

The Pastors' union of La Crosse will hold their annual outing on Monday, June 27. This being after the close of the city schools, it is expected that the families of the pastors will be well represented and afford an excellent opportunity for the ladies of the manse and parsonage to get together.

By the courtesy of Mr. Hyde, the pastors' party will embark in the Hyde launch at the foot of State street, leaving at 10 a. m. A trip up the river may be taken in the afternoon, but the party proper will be held at Dresden park, where several of the star acrobats and fans will indulge in genuine sport. Among these latter may be particularly mentioned the popular pastor of St. Paul's Universalist church and the genial secretary of the Y. M. C. A.

It is expected that there will be a large representation of the Pastors' union, and unlike other occasions the body rather than the head will receive the impulse of the moment.

Many men find it harder to dodge bill collectors than automobiles.

MUSICAL RECITAL

To constantly have before one a high ideal and to conscientiously work with intelligence and determination toward that ideal ultimately brings success and the rich reward of the consciousness of duty done. That this has been the record made by Miss Ida Schumann as a music teacher is known by all who know her and who are familiar with what she has accomplished. To cultivate a taste for the better things in music to inspire her pupils with a determination to strive for the best, to inculcate a high sense of duty and of honor, in order that through music there may come a general uplift has been her aim and her life work.

How much she has accomplished, what success she has achieved is constantly shown by the recitals her pupils have given from time to time.

That since the inauguration of these public recitals, by Miss Schumann, there has been a general improvement of musical standards in La Crosse, cannot be doubted. And the musical taste of the whole community has been affected for its good.

The closing recitals of Miss Schumann's classes were given at the residence of Mr. C. H. Schweizer on Wednesday and Thursday of this week. We give the Thursday evening program which illustrates in the character of the selections what has been said above.

Mrs. Frank Norbeck, vocalist, added much to the pleasure of the occasion. Her rendition of "Your Voice," by Benza, with violin obligato by Glen Hallik was especially enjoyed. While all acquitted themselves and their teacher it is only just to say that the numbers given by Harold Taylor, Marion Sanford, Alice Foster, Ellmore Schweizer, Lois Hallik, Charlotte Harple and Ruth Vande were worthy of particular mention and showed thorough training and a deep insight into the soul of music.

A large number of parents and friends attended and enjoyed a rare treat.

BLITZ and BLATZ

Blitz—Say Blatz, I heard your wife say to my wife something about Paris getting crazy. What means it. What has transacted there?

Blatz—Ach, you muttonhead, that was about some perfume what is called "Paris Craze." My wife bought some at Beyschlag's drug store and showed it to your wife. You heard just about enough of the conversation to know nothing, as usual is with you.

Blitz—Aha, so is it, what? Blatz—Yes. That "Paris Craze" is the finest hot weather perfume what is. It has a delicious and lasting smelling, and is from Paris. Hence "Paris Craze."

Blitz—I know now what I am about. Immediately I will buy some and surprise Mrs. Blatz with it. Good bye, alter knabe!

CHILD IS TURNED INTO THE STREET

Humane Agent A. J. Phillips Reports Pitiful Case from West
Salem

A pitiful case was reported to Judge Brindley by Humane Agent A. J. Phillips of West Salem today, when he made application to have a four-year-old boy sent to the school for dependent children at Sparta. Mr. Phillips informed the court that the child's mother recently obtained a divorce from a man named Burlington, but he was unable to give the maiden name of the woman. The child, who goes under the name of Roy Burlington, was deserted by the mother a few days ago, it is alleged, and since that time has been roaming the streets and has been given food by the people of West Salem. Mr. Phillips said the village council last evening instructed him to report the case to Judge Brindley in an effort to have the little child sent to Sparta.

MISS LEONA HUSSA HOME FROM EUROPE

After traveling in Europe and in Africa for six months, Miss Leona Hussa, returned home Thursday evening, making the trip from Genoa, Italy, alone. On September 1, last, Miss Hussa left for Europe, accompanied by Miss Miriam Harrison, who is still in the old country. From here the young ladies went to Montreal, Canada, where they boarded a steamer and went to London. From there they went to Hamburg, where they met a sister of Mrs. Drews, of this city. From there they visited Kiel, Flensburg, Copenhagen, Berlin, Dresden, and then visited Prague, where they spent a month with cousins of Mr. and Mrs. A. Hussa. Next they went to Vienna where three weeks were spent with relatives. There they also met a sister of Mrs. Hugo Schick. Three months were then spent in traveling through Italy, with the exception of a couple of weeks, which were spent in Tunis, Africa. On April 24 Miss Hussa left Genoa for home, while Miss Harrison will remain some time longer. She stopped a month with relatives in New York City and three weeks with relatives in Chicago.

MANY TO ATTEND RIVER CONVENTION

Much interest is being taken in the annual convention of the Upper Mississippi River Improvement association to be held at St. Paul, July 12 and 13. Delegates will be sent from nearly every city and town on the river from St. Louis to St. Paul. The river and harbor bill of 1910 makes ample provision for the final completion within twelve years, of the permanent improvement of the upper river, maintaining six feet in depth at low water. This will accomplish the original purpose of the association, and friends of waterway navigation in this valley have cause for congratulation. But the work is not yet completed, for with an improved river there must be boats, of modern construction for the cheap and speedy movement of all freight. Landing places must be improved. A complete change from ancient to modern methods of transporting and handling freight must receive needed attention. These, with other important topics, come within the purview of the convention. It is important to shippers that the commercial element be fully represented at the convention.

NEW TEXT BOOKS IN THE SCHOOLS

Text books of physiology for use in the public schools in Wisconsin in the future will have to contain chapters explaining the nature and dangers of contagious and infectious diseases, according to a resolution adopted by the state board of health. The authority to make such a regulation was given to the board at the last session of the legislature. The new rule will go into effect at the next school term. The state board of health has found that there are some sixty-five different text books on physiology in use in Wisconsin schools. The board will endeavor to have these books standardized and brought up to date.

PREMATURE SKY ROCKET ACCIDENT

Although the Fourth is still over a week off, the shooting of fireworks is already on and the first accident from the use of explosives occurred last evening when Gustav Witt, aged 13 years, was badly burned about the hand. The accident occurred at the confectionery store of W. Johnson, 125 South Third street, a brother-in-law of the boy. The latter took a sky rocket from the stock in the store and went back of the building where he attempted to fire it off. He got hold of the wrong end and as a result his hand was badly burned. He was attended by Dr. J. A. Rowles.

DEADLOCK LIKELY IN BROWNE JURY

Little Hope of Agreement, and Browne Is on the Verge of Physical Breakdown

CHICAGO, June 25.—The jury in the case of Leo O'Neil Browne is apparently hopelessly deadlocked this afternoon. Although Judge McSurely spent several hours in the court room, waiting for a verdict, the jury made no report. The jurors are wrangling violently and there appears to be little hope that they will reach an agreement. Browne appeared to be on the verge of a nervous breakdown this afternoon. When asked if he had any statement to make regarding the indictments found against him at Springfield today, he answered shortly: "No, I have not. I will make no statements on any subject."

ago. His interpretation of the doctor visiting the different places of interest in Italy was good, and he kept his audience interested all the time. The Boys' Glee club, composed of eighteen members, sang two good selections, the first one being "Until the Dawn," and the other "Ma Honey Blossoms." Both were well sung, and showed that the club is a good one.

The Value of a Smile
Corolla Bangsberg had a good topic: "The Value of a Smile," and it made a big hit with the audience. She told of the different ways of being pleasant, illustrating by examples from school, business and home life. Pupils do much better work in school, she said, if greeted with a smile by their teachers, than if given a scowl or treated indifferently. In the same way business is gained by a smile or pleasant word, while it is lost by unfriendliness. Domestic affairs would be much improved and people happier if pleasantness were employed by all in the household, than if everybody loses their temper easily. Finally, a smile is the best thing because everybody is cheered up by it, and makes trouble seem nothing. Again the high school orchestra rendered a good selection, this one being from "Faust," and being given in the characteristic excellent way.

Howard Jones, the last speaker of the evening, spoke on commission government. He told how the present city government is not considered good, because there are so many concerned in the running of it that no particular person can be blamed for anything which goes wrong. Consequently none wants to be responsible. Galveston was the first city to try this form of government after the flood had completely washed everything away. Other cities adopted it, and everywhere it proved successful, showing that it is a good form of government. At present, almost all the states in the union have clauses in their constitution providing for the establishment of commission government, and although Wisconsin's ruling in regard to it is not as good as in other places, because of the absence of the recall and initiative, it nevertheless has a system. Under the commission, there are but three or four men to govern the city, these being irrespective of party. The mayor is selected for a term of six, one councilman for four and one for two years. It is required that a report be issued at certain stated intervals, this showing just where the money has gone and what has been done.

The high school chorus sang another selection entitled, "Vagabonds," being accompanied by Miss Lois Hallik and directed by Miss Rollins as before.

Diplomas Awarded
To conclude the program, diplomas were given out. Prof. J. P. Bird making a few remarks before presenting them.

Luening's Address
President William Luening made a short address to the class telling them of the advantages which they had, and that they should be appreciated. When the new high school was built, he said, many people remarked that it was a large undertaking for this city, and that the board was requesting a lot when they asked for it. However, it was necessary and filled a long felt need by furnishing more room. He praised the faculty of the high school for the excellent manner in which they had done their work, and said that this was one of the best lot of teachers ever gathered together in one school.

A "Going Away" Tip:

Go through your silver-plated ware; take out all the forks, spoons, knives, dishes, tea-pots, etc., that show wear; bring them to me; when you return I will send them back to you replated and looking like new; and your pleasure and satisfaction will be out of proportion to the little cost. The things will have another lease on life, and your homecoming will be all the happier.

After this program had been finished, the diplomas were presented, and after that had been completed, the entire graduating class joined in a farewell "ricker racker" the high school yell, which was given with much enthusiasm, and resounded throughout the entire building.

Junior Prom
Shortly after the graduation exercises, the junior prom was held at the Masonic Temple, about fifty couples being present. The hall had been nicely decorated with a great many pennants, and shades had been placed over the lights, giving a pretty effect. Andre's orchestra was in attendance, giving one of the finest musical programs heard in the city for a long time. This ended commencement week, which has been one of the best in the history of the school.

tors anywhere in the country and this splendid body of men and women, who are giving their life to this work are worthy of every consideration.

His voice hoarse with emotion he declared that this was the last time he would appear before La Crosse people in the capacity of school superintendent. He said that during his administration there had been many things which made his work a pleasure, but that the head of a city's educational system is not immune from criticism and even mud slinging.

"My successor may be a younger man," he said in closing, "and may have his faults but I earnestly beseech you not to criticize him until he has been given a fair opportunity to get thoroughly acquainted with his work and until you know him."

President of the board of education William Luening addressed the graduating class after the applause following Superintendent Bird's address had subsided.

He took occasion to defend the action of the board in erecting the new La Crosse high school saying that at the time of its erection much criticism of the board was heard on every hand for what, at that time, was thought to have been a needless expenditure of money.

"We were criticized for erecting a building much larger than our needs at that time required," he said "but I think the people of La Crosse are beginning to see things now as we saw them. Much more room is required in the high school now than was necessary at the time of its erection and in a few years the building will be none too large."

Advice to the graduates to continue the fight they were about to start in the school of life with the same ardor they had displayed in the high school was given by the president of the board and after a few more brief but interesting remarks the presentation of diplomas was made.

COURT SETS ASIDE ANSWER OF JURY

Grants Judgment for the Defendant in Case of Knutson vs. Stone
Company

In the case of Matilda Knutson vs. the La Crosse Stone company, in which the jury rendered a special verdict for $7,900 for the plaintiff, Judge E. C. Higgins in circuit court this morning, refused to change the answers given to the questions by the jury, but granted a judgment in favor of the defendant, notwithstanding the verdict.

In this action the plaintiff brought suit to recover damages for the death of her husband, who was killed in a fall from the top of the bluffs, while employed in a quarry owned by the La Crosse Stone company. The jury, in its answers, held the defendant responsible for the accident and assessed the damages at $7,900. The court held that deceased was negligent as fellow servant and it was only an ordinary risk. The case will be appealed to the supreme court.

Another Verdict Reversed
Judge Higbee this morning also set aside the answer of the jury in the case of the Stanley Scandinavian Evangelical Lutheran congregation vs. the La Crosse Steel Roofing & Corrugating company, and rendered judgment for the defendant. This case was tried at the last term of circuit court and was brought to recover damages on a contract. The jury assessed the damages at $195 against the defendant.

A petition was filed this morning by the Milwaukee, Sparta Northwestern Railway Company, for the appointment of commissioners to condemn land, which was granted. The company proposes to construct a new road from Ontario to Wilton.

Mrs. Kabat Divorced
Matilda Kabat was granted a divorce from Charles Kabat, who is serving time in the federal prison at Leavenworth for manufacturing counterfeit money. The divorce was granted on the grounds of desertion and cruel and inhuman treatment.

THOMAS P. GORE, BLIND SENATOR

The spectacle of a man totally blind rising to a place of national distinction makes the case of the man who sees look pretty bright, or casts a suspicion upon every grumbling individual with eyesight, as you may choose to view it.

Senator Thomas P. Gore of Oklahoma is a national figure whose force is keenly felt at Washington. He is not only thoroughly informed on all public questions but has the power to present his views upon them with force and telling effects. He is feared in debate, sought in society, loved by his friends, bitterly despised by his enemies, and, in fact has all the qualities of true greatness.

He is a platform orator of fine magnetic presence and holds his audiences like a charm. No man in the business can more fittingly tell a story or more effectively illustrate his meaning. Senator Gore will be one of the stellar attractions at the La Crosse Chautauqua this season. It will be an event worth our while to have him with us. Everybody should take advantage of the opportunity to hear this gifted though sightless statesman from the new state.

Yesterday he made the charge in the senate that an attempt had been made to bribe him in behalf of a syndicate of lawyers who hoped to clean up $3,000,000 by the deal.

GIVE UP PLAN TO CONTINUE FAIR

Although the new owners of the county fair grounds at West Salem made the La Crosse County Agricultural society an offer to allow it to continue holding its fair on the grounds for a consideration of five per cent of the gate receipts, the proposition will not be accepted. At first the plan met with favor among some of the members of the society but no one felt like taking the responsibility of running the fair and consequently the project is abandoned and the fair will be discontinued.

SENIORS HOLD GRADUATION

Four Seniors in the Boat,
Unable to Be at Madison, Hold Exercises at Crew Quarters

(By Reuben Trane, Captain of Wisconsin Crew.)

WISCONSIN CREW HEADQUAR-TERS, The Elms, Highland, N. Y.,
June 25.—The Wisconsin crew headquarters are in Highland, New York, a little village directly across the Hudson from Poughkeepsie. They are in a three-story frame house which is at other times used as a summer resort hotel, and is therefore particularly well adapted for the Wisconsin oarsmen.

This year there are four seniors in the varsity boat, J. W. Wilce, S.
Kerr, H. Sunmicht and R. Trane.
These men have been together as classmates, and as oarsmen in the same boat ever since and including their freshman year. They were all in the victorious freshman crew in 1906.

These men were rather loathe to leave college without leaving something as a remembrance of their college work. They also were forced to leave school before the graduation exercises and therefore could not realize or take part in the impressive ceremony which is due to every graduate. They accordingly decided to have graduation exercises for themselves with the rest of the crew men, coach, doctor and visitors as the audience.

John Wilce started the talks and gave a very impressive talk upon college traditions, laying special emphasis on those that work toward good results. He then presented a beautiful large pipe to the juniors present, saying that the class of 1910 are endeavoring to start the custom of passing the pipe to junior crew men and allowing each one to smoke the pipe and to vow to do all in his power in the future to make the next crew victorious. This pipe will be engraved by the captain of each crew with the numerals of his class. This class of 1910 justly deserves to have its numerals in the most prominent place on the front of the bowl.

The juniors responded at receiving the pipe and stated that they would endeavor to perpetuate the custom and place pipe in a special glass case in the trophy room of the Wisconsin Union. This will allow the pipe, together with its significance, to be brought before the students at Madison in the future.

The exercises were then continued and were along the usual lines of graduation exercises. Class history class prophecy and commencement oration followed by the remaining three men. The exercises were great success and were well taken by the freshmen that were present and they will probably put forth more earnest endeavors in the future and will work harder in the few days left before the big race.

By giving the pipe with its accompanying significance it is not to be inferred that the present crew is not a good one. In the present crew outside of the four above mentioned men there are four husky men from the two succeeding freshmen crews.
All the men work together well and know how to make the boat go fast.
This boat raced Washington on June 4th with an easy victory. They have rowed four four-mile trials upon the Hudson and have made good time and succeeded in making the fourth mile as fast as any of the others, so they have endurance, and if they are ahead at the three mile mark nothing will pass them. The crew is much faster than that of last year.

Another feature to Wisconsin's advantage is the fact that Cornell has not so good a crew as they had last year. This fact will make the race much closer and it is to be hoped that Wisconsin can do better than ever before. The men are lighter than most of the others and their determination and grit only can make them win.

Big Bill, Mainstay of Last Year's Team, Allows
Four Hits, Winning
7 to 0

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 25.—
Big Bill Schardt, the mainstay of the La Crosse team in the Minny league last year and now one of the best in the Association, yesterday broke the losing streak of the Brewers by allowing Louisville just four hits and winning by the score of 7 to 0. Four hits were all that were gathered off Schardt, and Robinson got two of these. His control was perfect. He did not issue a free pass, he struck out nine men and in nine innings but thirty-one batters faced him. The score:

TWO GOOD GAMES

PLAYED AT WYKOFF

The La Crosse Clothing company baseball team and Caledonia crossed bats at Wykoff, Minn., Thursday and Friday, each team winning one game. In the first game Peterson would have scored a shutout but for his own error making an overthrow on first with a man on second and third and two men out. The game resulted in a 4 to 2 victory for Caledonia.

The second game was a fine exhibition of inside ball on the part of the Clothing company. The first three men up in the first inning bunted safely when Stuve made a single scoring two runs, Lavold, bunting, was thrown out at first, Larson scoring from second on the bunt. In the seventh Ludwig singled and scored from first on Peterson's single. Some fast base running. Walters was in fine form allowing six scattered hits and striking out seven men. The feature of the two games was the catching of Ludwig, for not a Caledonia man was able to steal a base on him.
Score, 4 to 2 in favor of Clothing
Company.

Great La Crosse Chautauqua Opens Next Tuesday on High School Grounds with Splendid Program

Next Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock opens the Chautauqua on the new high school grounds and a review of the program convinces lovers of high class lectures and entertainment that previous offerings will have been excelled.

Tuesday, June 28
2 p. m.—Opening exercises.
2:30 p. m.—Concert, Kirksmith orchestra.
Six winsome girls of delightful platform appearance and every one an artist, they present a striking picture.

No matter what length their programs, we have never known an audience to get enough.
Their versatility makes variety easy for them. From the spirited and often heroic splendor of an ensemble production you are whisked off on the wings of a soft sweet vocal duet; or charmed by the inexpressible beauty of a trio of violin, viola and flute.

Agnes, Maude, Marguerite, Lillian, Pauline, Gertrude—piano, violin, cornet, flute, saxophone, viola—Six instruments and four vocalists, many beautiful combinations are made with ease.
And they make the most of the possibilities. They fill the Chautauqua demand to the very brim. Their music represents the highest concert achievements.

After a full season on our Trans-Missouri Chautauquas, the persistent demands of our patrons caused us to repeat the Kirksmiths throughout that territory last year.
They made better than ever; because the people knew what to expect.

3:15 p. m.—Lecture, "Why?" Mattison Wilbur Chase.
4:30 p. m.—Organization King Arthur's Court.

Every boy and girl between six and fourteen should join the court. It will be more popular than the Seton Indian work of the past.

7:30—Concert and entertainment, Kirksmith orchestra; Evelyn Bargelt, cartoonist.

Evelyn Bargelt holds a place unique and exclusive. As a reader and cartoonist she occupies a field all her own. If you have ever heard Miss Bargelt you have been delighted. Her humor is spontaneous. Her wit ready and unexpected. Her pathetic numbers are most touching, for she has a most tearful voice when she sees fit to use it. As a reader, she is above the average "good" reader. As an entertainer, she holds a place all her own. Her illustrated humor is most captivating.

Wednesday, June 29
2:30 p. m.—Full matinee; Royal Italian Guards' band, Signor Pasquale Ferrante, director; Walter Eccles, humorist-entertainer.

Signor Pasquale Ferrante is a bandmaster of renown. His programs are gems of artistic discernment. Record breaking crowds will flock to hear. Not to go would be strongly self denial indeed.

7:30 p. m.—Concert by Royal Italian Guards' band, assisted by Walter Eccles, humorist.
Walter Eccles is clever and most versatile. He does a good deal of the solo work in the musical comedy numbers, and then jumps in with an amusing monologue and immediately switches to impersonations. By the way, speaking of impersonations, he does a splendid bit when he sings Harry Lauder's "I Love a Lassie." He is very like the famous Scotch singing comedian, who is now drawing a salary of three thousand dollars per week.

Thursday, June 30
2:30 p. m.—Concert, Lady Four entertainers.

The lady entertainers are all that their company name implies. In addition to the pleasing array of musical offerings their programs include readings and character delineations of a refreshing character.

3:15 p. m.—Lecture, "Sunshine," Dr. A. A. Willets, dean of America's platform.

Dr. A. D. Willets, called the apostle of sunshine, is not ill-named. His chosen mission appears to be to brighten and lighten human life by drawing the attention of men and women to what they enjoy in things blessings in the reach if not in the possession of all humanity. The lesson that there is actually more of good than of evil in human life. Dr. Willets presents in a style that stamps it as founded upon actual experiences. There are no fine spun theories, no philosophical distinctions, no metaphysical distinctions.

What Dr. Willets says is what he thinks, and feels—feeling and thoughts that have come to him because he feels with his fellow men. He affects not oratory, he attempts not eloquence, he "only speaks right on." The views he gives of human life are not exactly original; that is, what he feels and therefore says, is in every instance, just what his auditor has felt before, but never said. In a style conspicuously simple, with a vocabulary that is as free from affectation as it is strong in the earnestness in which it shows, Dr. Willets points out how much sunshine there is in everybody's reach, and how much joy the sunshine brings to every man, to every woman, who will but take it just as it comes.

7:30 p. m.—Concert by Lady Four entertainers; lecture by Senator Thomas P. Gore of Oklahoma.

He is the first senator from the new state of Oklahoma and a brilliant orator. His recent speech at the Denver convention, the speech which caused the sixty-four minute Bryan demonstration, has brought him even stronger into the limelight. For a blind man to make a successful canvass of any state proves rare gifts and a strong personality, but to win out in Oklahoma, in that most hotly contested race, places him in the first rank as a man of sterling character and brilliant attainments.

Friday, July 1
2:30 p. m.—Recital by A. Ruthven MacDonald, Canadian baritone.

He is big enough to be seen and sings so you can understand. You get the story as well as the music.

From heights of vocal splendor among the classics, he drops to the marvelously clever "Biberty Bob," a popular hit that once heard is always remembered.

3:15 p. m.—Lecture by Dr. Ernest Wray O'Neal of Chicago.
Rev. O'Neal has a happy faculty of immediately creating interest, which he holds throughout his lecture without apparent effort. At times he is eloquent, but in a modest way, as he does not strain for a moment in rhetorical flight. He does not hold his audience through oratorical finesse, but through the virtue life of his story.

7:30 p. m.—"The Story Beautiful," by Rev. Father MacCorry.

There is but one man that can tell "The Story Beautiful" in the inimitable way that Father MacCorry tells it, and that man is Father MacCorry himself. He is unlike anyone else on the platform. He is in a class by himself. His power of holding his hearers spellbound throughout an evening—of one minute moving them to tears and the next thrilling them with ecstasy—of compelling surrender to one strong emotion after another—is one of his most remarkable characteristics. This is due not alone to his surpassing eloquence and fire, but in a great degree to the magnetic quality of his voice and manner, to his intense earnestness, and to a most engaging personality. He touches the fountain heads of art, music and literature and brings the life and times of the Messiah up through the dim azure of the ages until one thinks it must all have happened a few yesterday ago. His word painting vies in brilliancy, and in some instances wins the mastery over, the exquisite coloring of the paintings projected on the canvass. His scathing denunciation of the injustice of the world at the scene of the woman taken in sin—the injustice which stones an erring woman but condones a more sinful man—is like a livid stream of lava, consuming and irresistible in its fiery force.

Father MacCorry is one of the greatest of popular orators, and "The Story Beautiful" is unquestionably the highest reach of both his artistic and oratorical ability.

Saturday, July 2
2:30 p. m.—Concert, Royal Hungarian Orchestra.

The musicians in this orchestra are real Hungarians who have learned to study music in their own country and play not only with the technical ability of artists but with the abandon of the Gypsies. It is very seldom that an audience fails to rise to their feet when the director leads his orchestra in his medley of national airs and in many places the audience has sung with their playing.

7:30 p. m.—Concert, Royal Hungarian Orchestra.
8:15 p. m.—Lecture by Thomas Brooks Fletcher.

He opens fire on his audience with the rapidity of a gatling gun and the force of a thunder storm. He is not eloquent. He is not an orator. But by sheer force of an indomitable and irresistible personality he drives home his facts and exposes in all their hideous and contemptible deformity many of our economic, social and political acts of hypocrisy. The preacher, teacher, politician and editor who are afraid to sneeze until their constituents take snuff try to hide under their seats before Fletcher gets through with them. He is the strongest man on the course and his message ought to be heard in every town in the land.

Sunday, July 3
The character of all programs presented on this day will be in keeping with the best CHAUTAUQUA ethics. The various Concert Companies have been instructed to prepare accordingly.

The early evening Vesper services, that proved so enjoyable to our patrons last year, will be conducted this season. Suitable Vesper literature will be furnished free.

2:30 p. m.—Recital by Fox Sisters' Orchestra.
A family of talented artists. They create a sensation wherever they go.

The great musical centers heard them with delight and testified to their splendid accomplishments.

Besides being a specialist with one instrument, each successfully manipulates a number of others. The results obtained are marvels of beauty and artistic versatility.

Every number is rendered with snap and go. It is melody in action.

Their string quartet is the delight of everyone and many encores follow.

From infancy they have breathed the atmosphere of music and their souls are bubbling over with it.

Their numbers are selected with reference to the people's needs and all are delighted.

Stringed instruments, trombone, cornet, drum and bells are all pressed into service with telling effects.

Their vocal productions are popular and thoroughly enjoyable.

3:15 p. m.—Sermon lecture, "Samson Aroused," Doctor Edward Russell Perry of New York City.

Dr. Perry is a member of the American Society of Social Science; he is one of New York City's leading preachers; an active foe of graft in the Metropolis. His lecture "Samson Aroused" has received unsolicited praise from Theodore Roosevelt, Senator Robert La Follette and other great men.

7:30 p. m.—Concert by Fox Sisters' Orchestra.
8:15 p. m.—Lecture, "Ticks and Tricks," Strickland W. Gillilan.

It was immediately after writing "Finnigan" that Gillilan began to be in demand as a reader of his own work. He was afraid of his own native rustic gawkiness and when he first attempted to read "Finnigan" in public he apologized for his appearance in such a way as to render it a monologue hit. This surprised him and caused him to begin to take stock of himself as a platform possibility.

His growth has been rapid but sure and lasting. In the humorous lecture field. He has filled more than a thousand dates. Dr. Robert J. Burdette and James Whitcomb Riley have been two of his most enthusiastic friends in the work. By their faith, implied and expressed, they gave him much courage to go on being himself for the delectation of his audiences. His sixteen years' active newspaper drudgery have given him an insight into every phase of life, yet he has not lost his helpful illusions. He has kept himself sane by being a devoted family man. His beautiful Baltimore home, containing his wife and three children, is his shrine, his anchorage, his regulating influence.

Monday, July 4
2:30 p. m.—Concert Recital, Lee Fullenwider-Lathrop.

Here is the highest gift of music. Here is a genuine concession to critical taste.

The trio here presented is absolutely without superior. To hear them is the chance of lifetime.

3:15 p. m.—Lecture, "Justice," Senator Moses E. Clapp of Minnesota.

This distinguished congressman has taken a lead in political affairs and has earned for himself an international reputation as a great statesman.

His lecture will no doubt be the feature of this year's program. Local politicians regardless of party, are preparing to give the great Minnesota Senator a royal welcome to the city.

7:30 p. m.—Concert by the Redpath Trio.

8:15 p. m.—An Evening of Magic and Telepathy, Directed by the Floyds.

Floyds magic is considered entirely his own. He carries $2,000 worth of properties and his stage setting is very elaborate.

He is ably assisted by Mohalah, telepathist, whose psychic wonders have confused many scientific minds.

Morning Hour Work
Let no one imagine that because this session is held in the forenoon that it is not of great importance.

On the contrary, the character of the work sought to be done requires a time that offers advantages for study.

Mott R. Sawyers, who will have charge of the Morning Hour, is a moving force. He is an originator, not an imitator.

He has had big experience in dealing with the mass. He is an organizer of ability.

His lectures will begin at 10:45 a. m., each forenoon of the following days and on the subjects named:

Wednesday, June 29—"Money."
Thursday, June 30—"Health."
Friday, July 1—"Religion."
Saturday, July 2—"Common Sense."

Monday, July 4—"The Hundred Point Man."

Season ticket holders are admitted free to the forenoon lectures.

King Arthur's Court
Every boy and girl in this town and vicinity holding a child's season ticket, costing $1.00, will be entitled to membership in King Arthur's Court.

Good King Arthur will be at the CHAUTAUQUA in all his glory.

Every boy and girl in the country has read with pleasure the interesting stories of his life and times.

Some boy in this neighborhood will be chosen to take the part of King Arthur. Do you remember how Arthur got to be King? It was by his ability to pull a sword from an anvil.

Now, our King Arthur will be chosen by votes. The boy who can get the most other boys and girls to vote for him will succeed. You can have this all arranged for before CHAUTAUQUA begins.

The costumes will be gay and gorgeous. Just like the knights wore in the days of chivalry. It would be a good thing to study up on this in advance.

Then there will be shields, swords, armor, banners, lances, helmets, and coats of mail. It will all be educational as well as gorgeous and beautiful.

The noble character of King Arthur will be impressed upon all for the moral force it reveals.

The Princess will be there. So will Sir Launcelot, Kalin, The Kitchen Boy, Accalon, The Giant, The Knight, with the Badly Made Coat and other notables.

All will go in search of the Holy Grail, in imitation of Arthur's men. The leader will use the occasion to impress historical and moral lessons.

In addition to all this the leader will arrange a lot of good games suitable for the occasion.

There will be Circle games, rags, tag games, ball games, active games, rainy day games tournaments, games for little tots.

A competent manager will be provided and the work advanced in full form.

There can be no doubt that this will prove to be the greatest child feature ever attempted by a CHAUTAUQUA management.

A. C. Brackett, Superintendent

The superintendent can make a CHAUTAUQUA succeed or fail as he chooses or is qualified. A. C. Brackett, an Iowa preacher, will manage the La Crosse CHAUTAUQUA. He is a young man, a lover of clean sport, prominent man, and a fearless executive.

He graphically describes each painting as it is thrown on the screen. His lecture is elaborately augmented by appropriate solos rendered by Ruthven McDonald, Canadian baritone. fire commissioners recommending that the chiefs of police and fire departments be requested to attend the annual conventions of the chiefs of said departments, the police convention being at Birmingham, Ala., and the fire convention being at Syracuse, N. Y., beg leave to report that we have had this matter under consideration and would recommend that the chief of the fire department and the chief of police be each requested to attend said conventions at an expense to the city of the sum of not to exceed one hundred dollars ($100) for each, and would further recommend that the chiefs of said departments be requested to make report to the common council of the doings of said conventions; and to that end offer the following resolution:

Resolved, that the mayor and common council of the city of La Crosse be requested to attend the convention of chiefs of police at Birmingham, Ala., in May, 1910, and that the chief of the fire department be requested to attend the convention of the chiefs of fire departments at Syracuse, N. Gentlemen:—Your special street improvement and finance committee to whom was referred a resolution for the purchasing of 6,000 gallons of road oil at 3 1/2 cents per gallon, beg leave to report that we have had this matter under consideration. Your committee have fairly considered the subject and find that we can not purchase the oil in a tank car to advantage for the reason that we can secure no place for the storage of the same, and your committee would recommend that a smaller car of sixty-five (65) barrels of said road oil be purchased, the same to cost in the neighborhood of five cents (5c) per gallon after the return of the barrels. The said road oil is to be purchased by the city and paid for by the property owners abutting the streets on which it is applied, the city to pay the cost of the street intersections and also the entire cost of putting it on. And to that end offer the following resolution:
ORI J. SORESENSEN, F. L. GODDARD, JOS. C. HOUSKA, W. H. TARBOX, ADAM KRONER, Committee on Special Street Improvements.

Resolved, by the mayor and common council of the city of La Crosse, that sixty-five (65) barrels of road oil used for street dressing be purchased at an approximate cost of five cents (5c) per gallon, for use in accordance with the above recommendation and report.

Special Announcement and Apology

Owing to the extremely dry weather, and the consequent danger from fire, Mayor Sorensen has requested us to discontinue the sale of Fireworks until immediately before the Fourth.

Realizing the wisdom of this request, we have complied at once, and will not resume the sale of Fireworks until JULY 1st.

We make this announcement in order not to disappoint the readers of our weekly bill, in which we had Fireworks advertised. This bill was distributed Saturday morning, but was printed before the Mayor had made this request of us.

Clarke then served notice that he protested the game. After that Johnstone and Moran seemed to be trying as hard as possible to make Pittsburgh win so that the protest would not count. They made a joke of the rest of the game and finally by making two had decisions presented Pittsburgh with three runs and the victory. TIM SULLIVAN "ON TO RENO"

NEW YORK, June 25.—The permanent stakeholder for the Jeffries-Johnson fight, Senator "Big" Tim Sullivan, who has been in Europe attending the performance of the Lusitania play, has returned on the Lusitania and will leave next week for Reno in order to be on the ground in time to see that the final details are completed. Sullivan commented on the action of the fighters in accepting the change to Nevada, without complaint and said that this fact alone effectively disposed of the rumors that the bout was to be a fake.

When asked who he thought would win, Sullivan declared that by reason of his position he had no right to an opinion and had not formed one.

Sullivan stated that to date he had received $70,000 of the stake and forfeit money and that there is $50,000 due, which must be paid over to him within 24 hours of the time of the fight. He stated that he intended to have all the stake and forfeit money in his possession at the time called for by the articles of agreement or know the reason why.
